Communist Firing Squads Begin Raids in East Berlin

Martial Law Said Clamped On Red-Occupied Germany

Compiled From News Wires

BERLIN (AP)—Russian firing squads went to work in revolt-torn East Berlin today

More than 100 Germans were reported under arrest Thursday in East Berlin and facing Soviet courts Flying squads of people's police and Communist party officials raided workers' homes, hunting suspects

Some of the oldest employees of nationalized plants and factories were seized Wednesday night and Thursday morning They were pointed out by Communist informers as men who had led the march of 50 000 workers against the government headquarters.

* * *

THE OFFICIAL East German news agency ADN reported a West Berliner had been sentenced to death and shot on Russian orders The Red radio told of continuing arrests and promised "severe reprisals"

Maj Gen P T Dibrova, now ruling East Berlin under a state of siege, announced the execution

The Soviet general described the dead man, Willi Goettling, as "a resident of West Berlin, who worked on order of a foreign intelligence service, was one of the active organizers of provocations and disturbances in the Soviet sector of Berlin, and participated in the violent banditry against the organs of power and the population"

* * *

"GOETTLING was sentenced to death by shooting The sentence was carried out," the grim announcement concluded

Unconfirmed reports filtering through the Iron Curtain said the Red army has imposed martial law throughout the Russian-occupied zone

The U S-operated radio station RIAS said large scale anti-Communist demonstrations which exploded Wednesday in Soviet East Berlin spread Wednesday night to a number of Soviet zone cities

Erich Ollnehauer, West German Socialist Party chieftain, told a press conference he has received reports from the tightly sealed Soviet zone that martial law has been clamped on all East Germany

* * *

IT WAS established that martial law has been extended to Babelsberg and Potsdam, headquarters for the Soviet occupation and to several other East German cities

The West Berlin Labor Union Federation said East Berlin and most of East Germany is tied up by a general strike now in its second day

Soviet tank units were reported rushed to Madgeburg near the East-West frontier, to quell a violent riot outside the Thaelmann-Strasse jail where anti-Communist demonstrators demanded release of political prisoners

West German officials at Helmstedt said travelers and railroad workers from East Germany reported 20 anti-Communist demonstrators were killed in Madgeburg alone

They said Soviet tanks opened fire to disperse an angry mob of 13 000 workers in Madgeburg One Communist East German policeman was reported lynched

Demonstrations and riots also were reported in Brandenburg, Waldheim, Halle, Torgau, Bautzen Leipzig Jena, Dessau, Dresden and Gera

* * *

WEST BERLIN newspapers reported mass arrests of strikers

Red army troops guarding the boundaries between east and west sector of Berlin dug in today behind machine gun and anti-tank gun emplacements

East Berliners reported only doctors, dentists and a few others on "emergency" assignments were being permitted to cross the sealed sector borders They said East Germans living outside Berlin were not being permitted to enter the Russian sector of the city

Rosenberg's Pleas Completed for Court

Motion Filed in New York Alleges Wrong Law Used

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court at 1 32 completed hearing arguments on whether to reverse the stay of execution granted by Justice William O Douglas to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg convicted atom spies The nine justices left the bench without any word as to when they will announce the decision

Meanwhile in New York a new motion to save the Rosenbergs on the ground that Federal Judge Irving R Kaufman lacked the power to sentence them was filed in Federal Court

The Rosenbergs had been due to die Thursday night in the Sing Sing Prison electric chair

* * *

THE MOTION was filed before Judge Kaufman by Atty Arthur Kinoy on behalf of Emanuel H Bloch, the Rosenbergs' chief defense counsel

The move was based on Douglas' decision that the Rosenbergs may have been tried, convicted and sentenced under the wrong law.

Asst U S Atty Lloyd McMahon said that, should the Supreme Court decide against Douglas' action, the motion filed here would not have a leg to stand on"

* * *

IN OSSINING, N Y, The warden of Sing Sing Prison notified the state executioner to stand by for the possible electrocution of the Rosenbergs Thursday night if the Supreme Court refuses to uphold the last-minute stay of execution granted them Wednesday

* * *

THE GOVERNMENT told the Supreme Court in extraordinary session that it would have been laughed out of court if it had tried atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg under the atomic energy act

The tribunal was reconvened to hear arguments in the government's appeal from a stay of execution granted Wednesday by Justice William O Douglas Douglas ordered Thursday night's scheduled execution of the husband and wife spy team delayed until courts can rule on whether they were tried under the right law

Douglas said they perhaps should have been tried under the 1946 atomic energy act instead of the 1917 espionage act and that therefore there were serious doubts as to the legality of the death sentence

* * *

APPEARING for the government Robert L Stern the acting solicitor general, told the nine justices that if the Rosenbergs had been tried under the atomic energy act the case would have been thrown out of court

The high court was called together by Chief Justice Vinson after the government appealed Douglas' action

If a majority agrees to overrule Douglas, the condemned atom spies could be put to death at Sing Sing Prison at 10 p m (CST) as had been scheduled before Douglas issued his stay order, or at any time before Saturday midnight

* * *

DOUGLAS' GRANT of a stay of execution touched off a rapid sequence of events

The Justice Department moved for a reversal of what Atty Gen Brownell termed an "unprecedented" action by the justice

Vinson, within six hours called the justices back from the recess they had started Monday

Rep Wheeler (D-Ga) moved in the House to have Douglas impeached for "high crimes and misdemeanors" which he did not specify His announcement that he would do so drew applause in the House

Chairman Chauncey W Reed (R-Ill) said Thursday his House Judiciary Committee would give prompt consideration to the demand for impeachment

Reed told newsmen that if the resolutions reached the committee office in printed form in time for the committee to act on them Thursday, they would be considered

Justice Douglas said his decision ordering the stay of the execution, far from being unprecedented, was a matter of legal routine

He told reporters it is perfectly normal for any Supreme Court justice to stay an execution when he is presented 'substantial new questions that have never been decided"

* * *

THE ROSENBERGS have become the center of world-wide controversy since their conviction and sentencing two years ago They have steadfastly maintained they are innocent Rosenberg is 35, his wife two years older They have two young sons

Four times the Supreme Court refused to review their case most recently on Monday by a 5-4 vote, with Douglas and Justices Black, Frankfurter and Jackson in the minority

* * *

DOUGLAS' STAY of execution was granted in response to the pleadings of two attorneys not formally connected with the Rosenberg defense staff and denounced by Judge Kaufman earlier in the week as 'intruders and interlopers"

In essence, attorneys Fyke Farmer of Nashville, Tenn, and Daniel G Marshall of Los Angeles argued, the trial judge had no authority to impose the death sentence

The Rosenbergs were tried under a 1917 espionage law, which permits the death penalty in such cases Farmer and Marshall contended this act had been superseded by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 which authorizes the death penalty only upon recommendation by the jury and for crimes committed with intent to injure the U S

* * *

THE ROSENBERG jury made no such recommendation, and the indictment did not allege that they intended to injure this country

Douglas acted under a 1925 law which allows any Supreme Court justice to stay an execution

History's Worst Air Crash Kills 129 in Japanese Paddy

Big C-124 Was Loaded With GIs

TOKYO (AP)—A huge double-decked Air Force C-124 Globemaster, crammed with American troops bound for Korea, crashed and exploded near here, killing 129 persons in the worst aviation disaster in history

The Air Force officially set the death toll at 129 after a thorough check of the crew and passenger list indicated 122 passengers and seven crewmen were aboard the four-engined transport

An earlier estimate by James Bowen, fire chief for the Far East Command who directed the fire fighting crews at the scene, put the figure at 134 dead

* * *

MOST OF the victims were believed to be American servicemen returning to Korea after a short rehabilitation leave in Japan The Eighth Army canceled rest leaves, presumably because of the mass escape of Red prisoners of war

The Air Force said the giant plane reported serious engine trouble shortly after taking off from Tachikawa Air Base Crippled by loss of power, the Globemaster smashed into a rice field six miles short of the air field and exploded into flames

* * *

FIREMEN REPORTED most of the victims were still strapped to their seats, indicating they were either stunned or killed outright by the crash impact

About 90 bodies had been removed from the charred wreckage before operations were suspended at nightfall

Bowen one of the first on the scene said the heat from the burning plane was "terrific" The plane was demolished except for a part of one wing and a 15-foot section of the tail assembly

* * *

RESCUE WORKERS waded through a sea of mud to reach the plane

One of the men who helped remove the bodies said most of the victims had been burned

Air Force officers said despite the adverse weather, the plane was operating well within its safety limits There was one mile visibility The ceiling was 1 000 feet with broken clouds and overcast at 5,000 feet, the Air Force said The minimum is 250 feet ceiling and half mile visibility

* * *

THE AIR FORCE said there were no survivors, after a helicopter circled the flaming area and saw no signs of life

The worst previous crash on record also involved a C-124 Globemaster One of the big planes carrying servicemen home for Christmas crashed at Moses Lake Wash, on Dec 20 1952 killing 87

Several instances had been reported in the past week of engine trouble occurring on the giant planes In two known instances during the past week, C-124's had to return to base because of mechanical troubles

The plane crashed in the rain

City Auto Taxes May Be Collected by County

New 'Pay as You Go' Law Makes Early Payment Needed

By MARJORIE MARLETTE
Journal Courthouse Reporter

City taxes on motor vehicles may be collected by the county when the new auto tax law goes into effect in January, 1954

Co Treas C E Berg and City Finance Director Theo Berg are both of the opinion that the city's motor vehicle tax will have to be collected by the county since the 'pay as you go" tax law makes it mandatory to collect current taxes on a vehicle before registering it

* * *

DIRECTOR BERG explained "That's the way I read the law"

Treasurer Berg said he planned to take the matter up with the county commissioners who would then confer with the city about the problem

Heretofore, Treasurer Berg's office has collected taxes for the county, school district, sanitary district and state, while the city has collected its own

* * *

THE NEW LAW provides that the county treasurer shall collect the motor vehicle taxes current at the time of registration and distribute them to the different subdivisions in the same proportion as the personal property tangible tax for the year before

Where previously a car owner had to present his receipt for taxes due the year before when applying for his new license plates (example all 1952 taxes had to be paid before getting a 1953 license), he will now be paying the current taxes due When he gets his 1954 plates, he will have to have paid his 1954 motor vehicle tax as figured by the county treasurer

It would be difficult for the city to continue collecting its own seperate levy, C E Berg pointed out

South Koreans Lose, Regain Two Positions

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean troops fighting viciously lost and then won back two frontline positions on the East-Central front

Four hundred Chinese pushed the ROKs off steep high M-1 Ridge, near Christmas Hill at 6 a m but the ROKs banged back and retook the height about noon

Another 400 Chinese battled hand to hand with South Korean troops at a frontline position south of Finger Ridge A few hours later the South Koreans won back the position

In the air U S Sabre pilots destroyed four MIGs and damaged four others in jet battles that ranged along the Yalu River

Meanwhile an Eighth Army officer said latest figures showed 120 Chinese killed and 480 wounded in two unsuccessful 2 000-man attacks at Outpost Harry

Allied casualties were comparatively very low

Greek troops threw back a sharp strike at Outpost Harry by 3,000 Reds

Maj James W Jabara of Wichita Kan, first jet ace of the Korean War, shot down his 12th MIG

Capt Ralph Parr of Apple Valley, Calif, shot down two MIGs, his fourth and fifth It made him the 33rd Korean jet ace

For the past seven days the demand reached and all-time high of 201,285 500 gallons, an average per day of 28 755 071 Even during the record run of June 1952, when demand exceeded 31 million gallons on two successive days no seven-day period reached that just ended The top run then was 196 758 900 gallons for a daily average of 28 108 414

'Pulled the Rug Out,' ROK Official Says Of Rhee's Defiance

More Prisoners in Bloody Clash With Yank Guards

Compiled from News Wires

Defiant South Korea freed 25,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners Wednesday on orders of President Syngman Rhee without regard for the peril it placed on an impending truce. Early Thursday 1,500 more anti-Red Koreans tried to make a mass escape from yet another prison camp near Seoul's Port of Inchon and clashed with US soldiers and Marines First unofficial reports said 100 prisoners were killed

It was the fifth camp involved in the breakouts

Four hundred more Korean war prisoners escaped Thursday night from a United Nations POW camp after a bloody battle with US Marine and Army guards in which at least nine prisoners were killed and 93 prisoners and one Marine were wounded

Rhee immediately accepted responsibility for the surprise move —first official act in open revolt against United Nations efforts to reach cease-fire terms with the Communists

"We pulled the rug from under their feet" a South Korean government spokesman boasted

* * *

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER quickly conferred at the White House in Washington with congressmen over the critical development

Chinese and North Korean Reds had keyed the truce talks at Panmunjom to the issue of handling anti-Red prisoners

A high South Korean military authority said most of the prisoners would be enlisted in the ROK army That could add about two divisions to the 16-division ROK force

Meanwhile, the U N Command said it handed the Reds a letter at Panmunjom reporting the ROK guards had been replaced by U S troops and that every effort is being made to recapture the 24,000 prisoners still loose

* * *

HOPES FOR A truce in Korea hinged on the reaction of sullenly silent Communists

United Nations and Red staff officers completed the negotiation of a truce agreement during the day and there was a report that it might be signed by Saturday

There was no immediate indication how the Reds were taking the development

The prisoners were part of 46 380 anti-Red North Koreans and Chinese who refused to go home and thus became a problem that was resolved only last week after months of negotiations

* * *

U N troops recaptured 971 prisoners even as Lt Gen Won Yong Duk South Korean provost marshal, warned that anyone who tried to arrest them—'regardless of nationality"—would be dealt with severely

Rounding up the prisoners appeared almost impossible—many were South Koreans who had been impressed into the North Korean army All could blend into the mass of other South Koreans unmarked by language or physical differences

* * *

THE U N COMMAND was relying almost entirely on radio broadcasts asking the prisoners to return even as South Korea's Radio Pusan broadcast Rhee's message urging civilians to house and feed them

The U N broadcasts told the prisoners they had made a mistake in leaving the prison camps They promised no reprisals and assured the prisoners they would be set free after an armistice is signed

In Washington dismayed and angry administration leaders feared that South Korea's defiant release of the Communist prisoners would delay a Korean truce on the very eve of its signing

* * *

SO SERIOUS was the new development that it was expected to get top priority at Thursday's regular meeting of the National Security Council the President's top strategy planning board

There was no advance indication of the counter action the U N command may be instructed to take

In Stockholm, Swedish official quarters said Thursday Sweden's participation on the truce repatriation committee would hinge on the eventual results of South Korea's liberation of anti-Red prisoners.

The spokesmen said the results of President Syngman Rhee's move would count more than the action in itself in determining the Swedish position

Ruling on Stock Tax Is Argued

Intangible Review Asked

By CLARKE THOMAS
Journal Capitol Reporter

The Nebraska Supreme Court Thursday was asked to write a supplemental opinion "to give the constitutional landmarks in the taxation of intangible property."

Request was made verbally by Asst Atty Gen Bert Overcash as he argued against a re-hearing of the Omaha case involving taxation of stock of domesticated foreign corporations

The Supreme Court in a 4 to 3 decision last month ruled that Nebraska shareholders of stock in this type of corporation must pay the tax themselves

* * *

PREVIOUSLY, by administrative practice, the tax had been assessed against the corporations

After the decision was handed down, the Legislature hurriedly passed LB 411, to put things back the way they are

But unless the Supreme Court reverses itself, the tax will have to be paid for 1953.

W B Lane, an Omaha attorney, said the major decision was wrong because

"A domesticated corporation necessarily is a Nebraska corporation, organized under the laws of this state"

* * *

LEONARD FLANSBURG of Lincoln charged

"This decision makes every shareholder a law violator and the attorney general has already threatened in the newspapers to prosecute There is an automatic penalty of 50 per cent plus 7 per cent interest for a possible three years"

Frank Williams, another Lincoln attorney, discussed the legal aspects of organizing a law and said the court in the Omaha decision had used the term 'in a too limited sense"

But Overcash contended that the Supreme Court's ruling was correct in the light of what was intended by delegates to the 1920 Constitutional Convention which rewrote the Nebraska Constitution.

* * *

He SAID that a reading of the proceedings shows that the convention had three principles in mind in considering intangible taxes

1 All intangible property must be taxed

2 Intangible taxes must be taxed according to what their value is to the owner—not their value to the body which issued the stocks or other intangibles being considered

3 The tax must be completely uniform as to classes

* * *

OVERCASH said that the proposals were made at the constitutional convention to put certain deductions from value directly in the constitution

"But these proposals were rejected because spokesmen said they would destroy the whole theory of taxing intangibles

During the arguments Overcash said there are 'serious doubts as to the constitutionality of LB 411" He said the new law classifies some domesticated corporations as foreign and others as domestic

Truck Tolerance Law To Slow Road Process

State Engineers Studying Department's Future Policy

The major effect of the truck tolerance law on Nebraska road development will be a slower process both of conversion from dirt and gravel to hard-surface and of strengthening present hard-surface highways

That's the opinion of the eight division engineers of the Department of Roads and Irrigation The engineers met Thursday with top officials of the department opening a two-day conference to determine the course of future roads and irrigation policy, as affected by the 1953 Legislature

POINTING OUT that increased volume, speed and weight of traffic are the principal causes of road-wear, and that most present highways were built about 20 years ago, the engineers deplore the tolerance law on grounds that facilities to handle the increased loads are not now available

Before World War II the engineers recall, the maximum over-all truck load limit was 48 000 pounds As a "temporary measure" during the war, the limit was increased to 64,350 But the "temporary measure" was never repealed, they point out so the 3 per cent tolerance will permit almost 2 000 pounds additional on roads of which "about 90 per cent were built for 16 000 pounds or less"

THE RESULTING increased cost of maintenance they say, will limit the amount to be spent on conversion from dirt and gravel to hard-surface and slow the entire road development program

Says Jack M Crook of Ainsworth, North-Central District engineer "The tolerance bill was probably the worst one of the 1953 legislative session"

George Koster of Norfolk Northeast District engineer, speaking generally of the 1953 Legislature said "Financing is the key to the highway problem They made a step in the right direction"

OTHER engineers at the conference were

Congress' Economy to Cut Archeology Projects in Basin

If appropriations pass Congress in their present status, only a slim 2 per cent of the archeological remains in the Missouri Basin can be excavated

This is the observation of Acting Chief Robert L Stephenson of the Smithsonian Institution Missouri Basin Project

Seven years ago, at the foundation of the Smithsonian work in Lincoln plans were to excavate 10 per cent of the Indian sites in a nine-state area before dams on the Missouri covered with water several million acres of land, probably bearing valuable historical remains

Stephenson said there is some time remaining for work in the Ft Randall and Garrison dam areas this year and part of next There may be five to seven years of time remaining in the Oahe reservoir area

The major part of the work is centered in the Missouri, River basin

Stephenson said the fund cut as it stands would dash his permanent staff of 20 in half and his summer employee staff now numbering 50 to 100 engaged in field work, to 10 persons

City-County Health Clinic for Poor to Stop in 2 or 3 Months

Discontinuance of city-county health department clinics for the poor effective in two or three months" has been decided upon by the Board of Health.

Health Director Dr. James T. Googe said the discontinuance, which will cut out the present positions of clinic physician, clinic nurse and night physician on call, was made at the health department's request. About seven persons per day have attended the morning clinics at the health department office. In addition seven or eight night calls have been received each month, said Dr. Googe.

* * *

THE PRESENT medical services to the poor will be continued on funds available under the present budget, probably for two or three months, said Dr. Googe. He explained the step was requested because the Health Department did not believe such medical aid was its proper business.

He suggested that the proper place to handle such cases might be at an out patient clinic at some Lincoln hospital, or through private physicians paid out of funds available from relief agencies.

* * *

THE BOARD of Health gave final approval to a budget for the coming fiscal year of $155,000, broken down as follows:

Staff Salaries: $129,500.
Operating Expenses: $10,000.
Biologic and Drugs: $2500.
New Equipment: $2000.
Travel expenses: $11,000.

Of the approved salary sum, the board authorized $125,970 for present positions.

The board approved the recommendations for a full time veterinarian, an assistant health education director, and a clerk-stenographer.

Council Urged to Study Unusual Parking Bids

In a letter addressed to the City Council, the Lincoln Promotion Council suggests study on all applications for unusual use of sidewalk spaces resulting in restricted parking. Two main reasons advanced are:

1. Danger of establishing a bad precedent.
2. Parking now at such a premium in contested area that additional loss of spaces should be avoided, at least until adequate off-street parking is made available.

Church Mergers Could Be 'Sinful'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, insisted a merger with any other church body must come on "genuine doctrinal unity."

It would be "sinful" and displeasing to God for church groups to seek unity merely to gain strength in numbers, Dr. John W. Behnken, synod president, said.

Behnken keynoted the 10-day triennial conference of Missouri Synod Lutherans in an address at the opening business session.

Behnken was re-elected to his seventh term as president of the synod, headquartered at St. Louis.

The Berlin Stunt That Misfired

The Communist masters of East Germany, led astray by their own propaganda, pulled off one of the most tremendous boners this week in the history of their whole fantastic regime. They turned their well coached hired men loose in East Berlin on Monday to stage a faked demonstration meant to prove that freedom of thought and of action really prevail under Red rule. How were they to know that the Germans, after eight years of iron-handed suppression, would take the whole thing seriously and turn it into a genuine riot? It is impossible to imagine their shock when the play-acting suddenly bloomed into actual revolt.

Heads were cracked, and demonstrators yet uncounted—the actual number may never be known—died under the steel treads and the guns of Russian tanks and armored cars. But these, unlike many victims of Communist rule, didn't die vainly.

* * *

In their doomed rebellion they tore down a segment of the Iron Curtain to reveal the mythical quality of the peace and contentment claimed for them by their masters, and the deep-lying unrest that needed only the merest spark to touch it into flaming action.

* * *

Their lives bought increased hope for the West in various quarters. They upheld Adenauer's hand in the approaching election and undermined the German Socialists who have been campaigning for German unification at any price. It is not too much to hope that they shocked the French out of their complaisance over the Moscow peace offensive, perhaps will give impetus to the European army project.

* * *

The East German revolt, starting as a planned demonstration and quickly turning to a genuine rebellion in the German capital, is bound to be coupled with the unrest in Czechoslovakia, recently aggravated by the high-handed confiscation of the peoples' savings, and the recent Communist purge in the Ukraine, to make the most pressing topic for the Big Three at their approaching conference in Bermuda.

* * *

It is possible in fact to take this and other outbreaks as added proof that behind the peace offensive lies a desperate need of the Russians to mend their fences at home—surely great news for the free world and th enslaved populations.

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT

II Corinthians 13:5

Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

—Selected by Rev. F. Worthmann, Trinity Lutheran Church

Behind the Bamboo Curtain

Reports by thousands of Japanese repatriated after years in Red China show life behind the Bamboo Curtain to be very much like what has been seen for more than 30 years in Russia. The principal change is a backdrop of junks on the Yangtze-Kiang in place of boatmen on the Volga. Everybody has a job but nobody is getting fat. Workers at the mercy of petty official grafters must take frequent "achievement" examinations. Everybody wears a uniform dark Russian-type garb, and women are forbidden cosmetics. Travel is severely limited—virtually out of the picture for most citizens.

Anyone who finds this monotonous has only to say so. He is assured of speedy trial and a bullet in his back. This goes for farmers who get ideas about holding back any of the government's crops. Even a Chinese peasant or the grandson of a Russian serf must have dreamed of a better life, surmises the Indianapolis Star. An American who deliberately embraces Communism is clearly out of his mind.

Nothing New

Hawaii may not get its statehood at this session of Congress. The Nebraska City News-Press would remind us statehood bills have always taken their own sweet time in getting through Congress and that it was 13 years after passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act before Nebraska achieved the status of a state.

How the New Cabinet Works

For the first time in recent history, the President's cabinet has resumed the function of policy making. Working in an area new and strange to him, Mr. Eisenhower is putting great reliance on the views of the men around him, and looking to them for advice. Even Secretary McKay of the Interior, who likes a laugh, comes out with a solemn face, as though from a prayer meeting.

In a small way this is a prayer meeting, says a copyright piece in the U.S. News & World Report. Secretary Benson opened the first session with prayer, and at every meeting since, members have bowed their heads for a half minute before sitting down. All have known since the night before what was to be discussed, and topics have been assigned to one or another. The President opens the meeting with a brief summary of the critical issues confronting them, then calls on those to whom he has assigned topics. Discussion is frequently animated, and by the time each subject is dealt with, he has the main facts about it well in mind.

The President can and often does put the question to his Cabinet, though he is in no way bound by their views. To date no major disagreement has developed. In these days of international tension, emergency subjects frequently pop up, and may be referred to a cabinet member or to one of the others present, often Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who flies down from the U.N. building regularly for these meetings; or Harold Stassen, to answer questions about Mutual Security affairs. If a Cabinet member cannot attend, he sends a top aide.

After sizing them up in this businesslike atmosphere for a few months, Mr. Eisenhower is reported well pleased with all of his Cabinet, though some members are closer to him than others, notably Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, top Nebraskan in federal service. Defense Secretary Wilson has a special place on the President's list, because while slower than some of the others, he is "stubborn, a fighter, and able to keep a secret. He speaks out bluntly and isn't afraid to disagree"—traits which endear him to his chief. Secretary of Agriculture Benson is admired for his quickness and accuracy, thought rated less forceful than Dulles or Wilson. These are the favorites.

At the other end of the scale, Secretary of Labor Durkin has been stymied almost from the start, a Democrat in a Republican Cabinet, not enjoying the approval of Sen. Taft. He has been avoiding Congress where action on a new labor bill is being deferred, and his contact with the White House isn't close.

From the days of George Washington the role of the Cabinet has varied. The first President called a meeting when he felt the need of it, sometimes called on members for their views on general problems. Under many chief executives, meeting were mostly gabfests, with only perfunctory discussion of issues. Abraham Lincoln tried out Cabinet opinion as a compass, but frequently took another course. But he did take soundings of the group of opinion, and in general this is what Mr. Eisenhower is doing. He rates his appointees high, has great confidence in them, and intends to keep them busy.

The Heat Is On

When street lor gets shiny and babies in prams wear a single garment, when swimming pools get warm and secretaries compare burns on Mondays, when convertibles are converted and bus windows pried open, when ice cream cones permit no delay and poor movies in cool theaters flourish, when dogs get haircuts and middle aged men crew cuts, when pigeons get noisy and rain is not resented, when sleeves are rolled and jackets carried and shirts last one day, when publicity hounds start frying eggs on sidewalks—the heat is on. Better start those vacation plans. (With a nod to the New York Times.)

California Senator Good Choice

No one but Senator Taft, his doctors, and intimates know how serious his illness may prove to be, but the best opinions I have heard from medical men not connected with the case is that to use the word "serious" is subject to misinterpretation.

Perhaps the senator chose the word, but wise physicians say that some other word would have been better and more descriptive. In short, they would say the illness is not dangerous and can respond to treatment.

Moley

But because a floor leader must be literally on his feet hours every day, Taft's full duties in the Senate must be assumed by his chosen substitute, Sen. William Knowland.

Certain facts about Knowland are almost too well known to need repetition here. He has grown up in the newspaper business and in politics. He is the son of Joseph Knowland, proprietor of the Oakland Tribune, who was almost continuously in the California Legislature and Congress from 1898 to 1915.

Sen. Knowland was very active in the national Republican Party some years before his appointment by Gov. Warren to the Senate in 1944. His second election to a full term last year was signalized by a sweep of both primaries, with an overall majority over his opponent of some 1,600,000 votes. I know of no larger majority ever cast for any office other than a Presidency or a Vice Presidency in our national history in a contested election.

Rising Tide of Respect

This majority, plus the rising tide of respect for Knowland which I have found in California from year to year, is an important factor in his capacity to do well as a parliamentary leader. It means that political security will enable him to brush aside the irrevelant and drive ahead in the immense job of leadership.

It was said of William Pitt, the younger, that during his many years as party leader and Prime Minister he had no time for small talk. Bagehot said of him that Pitt's conduct was marked by a "certain aloofness . . . He was ready to discuss important business with all proper persons upon all necessary occasions. But he was not ready to discuss business unnecessarily with anyone." Charles James Fox was "the exact opposite. He was a good fellow. He rolled into the house, fat, good-humored, and popular."

But it was Pitt, not Fox, who steered England through its greatest perils and who is remembered as a transcendently great prime minister.

It takes security in politics to permit a man to attend to business. Taft had that. He was, perhaps, "caviar to the general," but his contribution lives far above that of his more amiable, rollicking contemporaries.

* *

An Indefatigable Worker

Knowland has the necessary security, and he has the intensely serious disposition of a floor leader. He is an indefatigable worker, and his loyalty to this party and its leaders is beyond question. He has youth as had Pitt.

It is not irrevelant to add that his wife, Helen, was once described to me by a well-known governor of an Eastern state as the best informed woman in America on politics.

In the trying days before and during the Republican convention, Knowland manifested honesty and loyalty with few parallels in public life. Both the Taft and the Eisenhower managers were angling for the big California delegation. Both sides were willing to offer almost anything, including the Vice Presidential spot. But Gov. Warren had won the delegation by a fair vote and was entitled to undeviating support. Moreover, as few realized then, Warren was very, very serious in his campaign for the Presidential nomination. Knowland listened to no blandishments from other candidates. He stood and lost with Warren. His loyalty to Taft and his party will be equally firm now.

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

— A Chat with the EDITOR —

It is in the American nature, I would judge, to admire—if not out loud—the Patrick Henry qualities in Korea's Syngman Rhee, who decided to "go it alone" and packed a wallop into that decision by freeing the very non-Communist prisoners of war whose fate the United Nations-Communist truce negotiators had been trying to decide.

* * *

But the Republic of Korea had accepted United Nations and United States intervention in its defense, and in that lay an implicit acceptance of the vital concern of the United States and U.N. in the terms on which the war would be ended. Americans themselves, or some of them, had been trying to learn that a partnership of the free cannot be unilateral position, but requires give and take. I doubt if many Americans really liked the shape the truce dealings were taking. But they liked less the most likely alternative—a bloody and so it seemed interminable prolongation of a fruitless conflict.

Rhee Goes It Alone

* * *

No one could say Thursday what this surprise turn in Korea would mean. But if it meant a collapse of the truce agreement that evidently had been so close to being sealed, it would most certainly also mean a complete and realistic re-examination of the whole United States and U.N. position in Korea. For here was a republic that was willing to accept Allied bloodshed, Allied arms, ammunition and food, and American training for its armies, but not the responsibility of her Allies for looking to something beyond bloodshed nor even the pledges of a continuing American concern which President Eisenhower had offered.

* * *

If Rhee's action had wrecked the truce talks—and this of course remained to be seen—it would seem to have wrecked also the possibilities of a continued Korean-U.N.-United States partnership that would otherwise have been the alternative to a failure at Panmunjom.

* * *

The grim irony of the news this week was that of the Western world should be rejoicing at the spontaneity and scope of the anti-Red uprisings on the European side of the Iron Curtain, while driven to dismay by an act of liberation in Asia.

* * *

Fundamentally, Rhee appealed to the same instinct in the Western World which cheered the uprisings in Berlin and the prospect that enslaved peoples of Eastern Europe would really get out of hand.

* * *

The difference of course is the fundamental one—that more lives than Korean are at stake, the fate of more prisoners than Rhee released, and the freedom of more than South Korea.

* * *

Rhee substituted his own judgment for that of the rest of the free world, which had decided, though reluctantly and only as a choice of evils, that the prospective truce would not necessarily violate the fundamental rights of the non-Communist prisoners, but that these might be protected by political means.

* * *

That substitution was a fateful one. History will rate Rhee with the great patriots of time if he was right and the rest of the world wrong; otherwise the scales will weigh heavily against him.

'Relic'?

LINCOLN—Our situation is indeed desperate if The Journal is correct in suggesting that ". . . the conviction that a man must be considered innocent until proven guilty" is to use the editor's words, only "a relic of chivalry." (Editorial Comment, June 17.)

Admittedly this principle has been much abused of late, with many finding it difficult in times of stress to be Jeffersonians.

This does not alter the fact that a man's presumed innocence, with the burden of proof resting upon the accuser, is fundamental to our system of justice and not a mere incidental in a disappearing code.

It is discouraging that the editor is so pessimistic about the future of the concept; even more discouraging is his apparent indifference to whether or not it survives.

Rose Show

LINCOLN—On behalf of the members of the Cornhusker Rose Society I wish to thank you for the excellent publicity given our recent rose show. We feel that the good press coverage had a great deal to do with the large crowd that attended the show, and contributed to the success of this community project.

Poor Chance

LINCOLN—If the proud, young parents of these swarms of little kids we see everywhere could only realize what a poor chance their kids are going to have for an education during the next 10 years, they would raise a lot of hell about it. These parents just assume that the public schools will manage some way. They always have, haven't they? But now it's a cold mathematical fact that the kids are here and the teachers are not. Worse yet, the spread between the number of kids and the number of teachers is widening every year, more and more. It's worse right now than it was five or 10 years ago.

The public schools also need at least $10 billion for new buildings and the public is not too concerned about voting the funds. Many school districts in Nebraska have voted bonds on condition of a low rate of interest, and our present high money rates are making it impossible to sell the bonds. Our Lincoln schools sold the recently voted $6 million in bonds at 1.8 per cent. Our school administration is to be commented because they certainly couldn't do it now.

One of the reasons why the public schools are coming under such criticism is the fact that superintendents can't keep up the standard of teaching efficiency under the present scarcity. I am sure a great majority of our educational leaders would agree that in the foreseeable future our standards of educational service is bound to be deplorably low during the next 10 years. This writer feels qualified to make these statements and suggests that anybody questioning them make a little inquiry.

Not only are we failing in elementary education; not only are we failing to produce teachers; the same thing is true of engineers, doctors and so forth. A much smaller per cent of our national income is going to education now than it did 10 or 20 years ago. Our hated enemy, Russia, seems more concerned about education than we do. We recently read a report that Russia is graduating nearly three times as many engineers this year as the United States.

In the long run, this matter of education may be as the production of tanks and planes for our defense.

Butler Says Another Deficit Year Won't Hurt

OMAHA (AP)—The people "have lived through 20 years with unbalanced budgets—another year isn't going to hurt," Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb) said during a brief stop over here.

En route to a family reunion at Cambridge, Butler said the Republican Party should reduce taxes next year "even if it means an unbalanced budget."

But Butler, who plans to return to Washington Monday, expressed hope the Administration can balance the budget in 1954 by making further cuts in expenditures.

Toynbee Views Current World Crisis

Each week a survey is made among readers of the Saturday Review of Literature to find out what books they are reading, and which they like best. The following column, a weekly feature of The Lincoln Journal's editorial page, is based on the results of that poll.

* * *

Edited by WILLIAM D. PATTERSON
The Lincoln Journal—Saturday Review of Literature Book Service

A book which stretches the mind is one of the most rewarding experiences a reader can have, and that is what historian Arnold J. Toynbee has achieved in the brief span of 99 brilliantly written pages, the total length of his latest book, "The World and the West."

ARNOLD TOYNBEE

That such an experience is not only rewarding, but pleasurable, was indicated by the fact that Toynbee's study in the historic roots of the present cold-war clash between the East and the West stood out last week on The Saturday Review's list of books being most widely read and enjoyed throughout the country. Other "best readers" were:

"The Green Man," by Storm Jameson (Harper). Wisdom and cunning keep their rendezvous with fate in this dramatic novel of Britain.

"Hotel Talleyrand," by Paul Hyde Bonner (Scribner's). A dramatic story of love and espionage among U. S. diplomats in Paris.

"The Sign of Jonas," by Thomas Merton (Harcourt, Brace). An author who became a Trappist monk writes frankly and movingly of his life behind monastic walls.

"The Course of Empire," by Bernard De Voto (Houghton Mifflin). The explorers who opened up the American continent form an honored phalanx in this splendid history of our West.

"The Silent World," by Captain J. Y. Cousteau and Frederic Dumas (Harper). The underwater adventures of men who lived beneath the sea like fish.

"The Corpus of Joe Bailey," by Oakley Hall (Viking). A novel of fresh power about the generation that grew up in the Depression in time to fight World War II.

* * *

IN HIS FIRST NEW BOOK in more than a decade, the distinguished British historian views the current world crisis from the large vista of centuries and civilizations and their long records of conflict and change. He moves confidently around the globe and back through various decisive epochs to shed a fresh and stimulating light on the clash of ideas shaking the nations of the earth today.

During the last 500 years, the author asserts, the rest of the world has suffered many violent and only a few salutary experiences at the hands of the West. Through its technological superiority the West has managed to conquer, colonize or exploit most of the rest of the world.

Turkey went through a drastic "Westernization" under Mustafa Kemal Ataturk to avoid the complete absorption or disintegration of the country; under Peter the Great, as under the Communists, Russia accepted tyranny to Westernize itself sufficiently to resist Western aggression. The Russians remember that armies from the West have invaded Russia, either Czarist or Communist, in 1610, 1709, 1812, 1915 and 1941 for conquest an annexation. Japan also Westernized itself with modern technology in self-defense against the West. So China and India.

* * *

BUT WHILE THESE COUNTRIES largely accepted Western methods—witness the upheaval going on in Egypt today which is so similar to the Ataturk transformation of Turkey earlier this century—they did not absorb Western ideas of society, government or freedom. Thus the conflict with the West continued.

Today a great counteroffensive against the West is under way because Soviet Russia has not only Westernized its ttechnology, but has become the spearhead of a Western idea—Marxian Communism—which appeals to the restless, underprivileged masses of the rest of the world. This appeal is twofold in Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America: (1) Communism offers the strength, as it has in Russia, to stand up to the West; (2) Communism will get rid of the rich minority, which exploits the depressed majority, while the West is committed to protecting this minority.

To Toynbee, the great weakness of Communism in the long struggle with the West is that it is a heresy and, like most heresies, ignores the many great values of the orthodoxy it is attacking: "A theologian might put it that our great modern Western heresiarch Karl Marx has made what is a heretic's characteristic intellectual mistake and moral aberration. In putting his finger on one point in orthodox practice in which there has been a crying need for reform, he lost sight of all other considerations and therefore has produced a remedy that is worse than the disease."

* * *

NOW LOCKED in a deadly struggle with Communism over the way of life the world will finally adopt, the West must compete with it for mankind's allegiance, and to this end must mobilize the weapons of the mind and spirit as well as of technology. To win the technological race no longer is enough.

On this score, Toynbee feels that an all-embracing faith may come out of the East which the West can adopt as Russia did Communism and thus finally resolve peacefully the multiple human conflict now besetting our civilization.

Adjustments in Economic Situation

WASHINGTON — Latest description given President Eisenhower for the economic situation is—"rolling adjustment."

That's the descriptive used by Gabriel Hauge, White House administrative assistant and former editor of Business Week. Hauge employed it when he participated in the President's weekly conference with Dr. Arthur Burns, head of the Council of Economic advisers.

Allen

"Just what does that mean?" asked the President.

"Right now," explained Hauge, "it means things are coming along very well. Construction, as a whole, is continuing to set new records; personal income is up quite a bit; and all signs point to a third quarter that will outstrip that period in 1952. At the same time, certain adjustments are taking place. Chief of them is agriculture where income is $1 billion less than last year. That's why the situation can be aptly described as a 'rolling adjustment.'"

* * *

BULL'S-EYE—Colombian Ambassador Cipriano Restrepo was complaining hoarsely about a distressing summer cold. Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn was most sympathetic.

"There are two things which science should concentrate on," he said, "finding cures for the common cold and hangovers."

"Ah, yes, indeed," exclaimed the diplomat. "Cures for them are most urgent because both are such frequent repeaters. One or the other is constantly afflicting an individual."

* * *

FOREIGN FLASHES—Sweden has uncovered a new Soviet spy ring, involving a number of youths. One of them has confessed he stole secret documents for a member of the Russian embassy in Stockholm. . . . Greece is adding another tank regiment to its armored forces. This expansion was made possible by the United States providing the tanks and other equipment. . . . France is finally moving to increase Vietnam combat units. Under this long-overdue plan, 25 additional "light" divisions will be created in the next few months. At present there are only three of these Vietnamese units. Practically all the weapons for the new divisions will be supplied by the United States. . . . Japan has begun surveys for a spectacular engineering project—two undersea railway tunnels connecting the main islands of Honshu and Hokkaido. . . . The government of Nicaragua is standing for no foolishness from Communist agents. An official announcement was issued bluntly stating that "strong arm" measures will be used against those spreading Communist propaganda. . . . Since the flight of several Polish Air Force pilots, the Red rulers of the satellite are taking no chances with their transport planes. All these planes are now accompanied by Russian fighters.

* * *

MOTOR TRIP—Former President and Mrs. Truman will make their forthcoming Eastern trip by automobile, with him doing his own driving all the way, both going and returning.

They will use the new big car they purchased after leaving the White House. Truman is very proud of his driving and plans to make the trip to Washington, the first stop, in two easy stages. Margaret Truman will join her parents in the capital, coming down from New York for the three-day stay.

The G.I. Speaks

"Carry that hilltop! Pour it on!" . . .
Boy, I can hear the words;
( Legal advice as I hesitate?
Brother, that's "for the birds");
"Hold to the end!" is the stern command,
Given as each word bites;
(Only a laugh if I glare and shout,
"This violates my rights"!)

II

"Hold the position! . . . No bugging out!"
This is the order plain;
(No Fifth Amendment to hide behind
Out where the bullets rain.)
"Pass me the ammo, and make it fast!
Help me to man this gun!"
("I must refuse to answer, sir"—
Wish I could pull that one.)

III

"Show you can take it! Don't give an inch!"
Cuts through the air like ice . . .
(Never a lawyer beside me to Make with the best advice):
Nobody asks for a yes or no—
My jeers are extra few;
(I get no counsel to huddle with,
Like those in spy hunts do.)

IV

Einstein no message to me dictates,
Saying I'm treated rough,
Bidding me never to be a slave . . .
(I've got to do my stuff.)
No groups hold meetings and wring their hands
Voicing concern for me . . .
(That's for the people so safe at home
Quizzed on their LOYALTY!)

Texas Wheat Crop 'Best Ever Seen'

Combine Owner Sees 50 Bushels to Acre Yields

DALLAS (AP) — Combine operator J. D. Russell said he is harvesting so much wheat for farmers this spring they don't know what to do with all their cash.

"I had to keep one of them from stopping cars on the highway and trying to loan the drivers money," Russell said with a twinkling smile.

The 43-year-old Dallas County farmer is cutting his neighbors' wheat before pushing north with the harvest. He said the wheat is the best he has ever seen. Some of it is yielding 50 bushels to the acre compared to a normal 10 or 20 bushels.

* * *

THERE IS SO MUCH work to do getting in the tremendous crop that some harvesting crews are spending extra days here along the southern edge of the great continental wheat belt. Others are working now in Oklahoma and in the drought-damaged fields of the Texas Panhandle, one of the few sections of the nation where the crop is poor this year.

All summer, combine crews like Russell's will toil in the golden fields from Texas through Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. September frost will catch them on the Canadian prairies at the end of their 1,800-mile trek.

* * *

THEY WILL HARVEST an estimated 1,132,500,000 bushels in the U.S. There is a carryover of some 570 million bushels from last season. The total would give the U.S. an export and carryover excess of a billion bushels, the greatest grain surplus in the history of any nation.

The nation's bountiful billion-bushel wheat crops have come about in the past 10 years, largely through the efforts of enterprising men like Russell. They have used their own capital to mechanize the mightiest harvest in history.

* * *

THE YOUNG TEXAS farmer brought his first self-propelled combine to the Dallas County town of Lancaster in 1943. It sat on the town square where the curious could get a close look at it. Russell runs three of them now with supporting trucks.

One of his combine drivers is his 14-year-old son Donald. The boy started handling the $6,000 machines in the Texas Panhandle when he was 13. Four harvest hands with trucks and a combine do the work that required a full crew of 24 men using a stationary threshing machine.

NORTH PLATTE IN GAY MOOD—With the Buffalo Bill rodeo Friday, Saturday and Sunday at North Platte, the city has been in a festive mood this week. Up to 2,000 dancers and spectators turned out for the street dances in the evenings (top, left). Buck Halligan (top, right), champion dance caller, "got things going." Delores Jelden, Queen of the 1953 Rodeo, is surrounded by her Ladies in Waiting and candidates for the 1954 roden queen (bottom photo). The girls are (from left) Joy Lee Trego Sall of Sutherland, Alpha Morton of North Platte, Kendra Winans of Hershey, Miss Jelden of North Platte, Donna George of North Platte and Geanine Farris of North Platte. # Auto License Fees to Make County 'Even'

By MARJORIE MARLETTE
Journal Courthouse Reporter

Co. Engineer L. W. Weaver expects Lancaster County to "break about even" on revenue from auto license fees under the new state law.

Even though the county will get only 35 per cent of city license fees this year instead of 70 per cent as previously, Weaver thinks the increase in the amount of the fees, plus a continued increase in the number of licenses, will keep Lancaster on a par with last year.

THE CITY of Lincoln, however, may gain some $170,000 on the law which now gives cities and towns 35 per cent of the fees which formerly went to the county, Weaver said.

LB 259, the license fee bill, continues apportioning 30 per cent of the take to the state. It raises all fees 50 to 60 per cent.

Income in 1952 rose to $269,093 from $258,775 in 1951, he said.

A bill similar to LB 259, in effect in 1950, then killed by a referendum vote, had decreased the county's license fee income from $208,252 in 1949 to $173,052 in 1950, Weaver said, but he doesn't expect that to happen this time.

Seven Hurt in Freak Mishap

NEBRASKA CITY (AP)—A freak accident involving a driverless truck loaded with seven tons of rock and a capacity-loaded automobile resulted in the hospitalization of seven persons.

Sheriff Tom Solomon of Plattsmouth gave this account of the accident:

Carroll Palmer, 25, of Peru, was driving the truck over a hill toward Union when he spied a farmer pulling a combine across the highway.

Palmer applied the brakes, but they locked and he was thrown from the truck.

The driverless truck continued 100 yards down the highway, missing the combine, and crashing headon into a car driven by Ira Miles, 40, of Pocatello, Idaho.

The impact of the crash knocked the car about 105 feet backwards down the highway. The car was demolished.

Miles, his wife, Elsie, 31, and daughter, Sharon, 4, and Mrs. Kenneth Kellner, 25, of Jackson, O., her sons, Max, 3, and Danny, 5, suffered cuts and body bruises. Palmer escaped serious injury.

Fairbury Opens Swimming Pool

Special to The Journal

FAIRBURY — Fairbury's new $100,000 swimming pool was opened Wednesday. Formal dedication is scheduled for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. with Mayor Clark Jeary of Lincoln giving the principal address; according to Dr. K. J. Kenney of the arrangements committee.

Included on the program will be the Fairbury Municipal Band, Mayor Oscar Milius of Fairbury, Kenneth Larkin of Kansas City, Mo., designer of the pool, and entertainment by Doane Dolphins, girls swimming team from Doane College.

Robert V. Denney will be master of ceremonies.

The new pool in city park is described as one of the best in the state and has parking spaces for patrons. C. L. Grovert, Plymouth High School athletic coach, has been hired to manage the pool.

Road Protest Loses Ground At Statehouse

A Weeping Water protest against the removal of State Highway 50 through that town failed to gain much headway at the Statehouse.

Gov. Robert Crosby pointed out that the State Highway Department is trying to build a strong primary system. "Building a good highway through Weeping Water would be both expensive and difficult," Crosby said.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said that studies had showed that a number of houses would have to be destroyed in Weeping Water to make room for a new highway of the proper width. Some citizens protested, he said.

A major problem would be engineering connected with building the highway across Gospel Hill, which rises sharply on the south bank of Weeping Water Creek. The present highway climbs steeply up the hill.

Lows tonight will be around 55 in the northwest to the 70s in the southeast. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for tonight in the northern and central Rockies, the northern and central plains, northern Missouri and Indiana. The rest of the country will enjoy fair weather. (AP Wirephoto.)

Visit Brisbane? Aussies Recall You

HERE'S HOW—Donnie Burns, 4, who has recent memories of bottle feeding, tries to show an unco-operative week-old lion cub how it's done at a Chicago zoo. (AP Photo.)

By FRED B. HUBBARD
Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Service

BRISBANE, Australia—If you're one of the two million American GI's who took over this city in World War II and wonder if it ever got back to normal, here's a report for you.

Despite the fact that you jammed the pubs, tried to woo every girl under 90 and ate up all the ice cream, you're still warmly and appreciatively remembered.

Hubbard

The 600-odd ex-GI's who've settled down here, in fact, find that "Yank accent" is still a Grade A password to Aussie hospitality and friendship.

* * *

BRISBANE after seven postwar years is a different place, naturally. But maybe these items will bring back memories:

Brass rails have been restored in a few pubs that removed them when GI's found that by standing on the rails they could lean over and kiss busy barmaids.

Yeronga Park, where the WAC's stayed, is back to being a park.

The once-frowsy emporiums on Queen St. and in the valley now look as modern as those in Main St., U. S. A. Southport and Coolangatta, your two favorite local leave spots, are postwar tourist meccas and growing phenomenally.

* * *

THE GALS are just as pretty and curvaceous as ever—even more so with the advent of inflated bustline aids.

Victoria Park's old USASOS (United States Army Services of Supply) headquarters buildings are being used as a temporary housing camp, as is the old U. S. hospital at Holland Park. The Navy base at Colmslie is a migrant hostel.

Camp Cable looks like peaceful farmland, with only a former officers' club and a monument to mark its wartime use by Americans.

The re-modernized Belle Vue Hotel is a lot quieter now that U. S. factory representatives no longer take pot shots from its verandas at the pigeons on Parliament House.

* * *

SOMERVILLE House is back to being a girls' school again. The old provost marshal's headquarters next door is now an apartment house occupied by far more pleasant people.

The old Red Cross Cafe and hostel on Adelaide St. is occupied by an airline. The old PX across the street (remember the bloody battle outside it) functions as an auto sales room.

The people who seem to miss you most are the taxi drivers . . . Their eyes light up (like cash registers) every time they spot my American accent.

Wheat on Ground Eligible for Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced it will make emergency price support loans on wheat stored on the ground in arid areas of the Southwest, where a shortage of storage facilities has been reported.

This decision was announced by President John H. Davis of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), the agency that finances price support operations.

Heretofore, only grain stored in acceptable farm bins and other facilities or in commercial elevators and warehouses was eligible for price support aid.

Deposed Colombian Head To Exile in New York

Paving of C, 42nd to 44th: Dobson Bros., Construction, $8,501.10; Abel Construction, $8,542.70; engineer's estimate, $8,600.

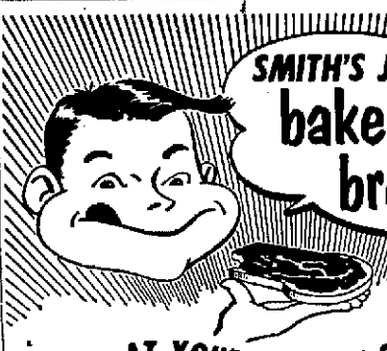

Paving of 44th, B to Valley Rd., and Mohawk, 44th to 46th: Dobson Bros., $22,310.60; Abel, $23,041.60; estimate $23,206.

Paving of 49th, Adams to Knox: Abel, $9,201.80; Dobson Bros., $9,240.90; estimate $8,000.

Douglas County 'Doing Its Best'

OMAHA (AP)—The Douglas County equalization board "is doing the best it can to equalize tax assessments," Commissioner Leonard Bergman said.

Bergman commented in answer to a statement by Gov. Robert Crosby that he had heard reports of a "growing movement" to persuade the Douglas County board to equalize between precincts, which cannot be done on the state level.

Crosby, who did not identify the source of the reports, said he was encouraged to learn of the movement.

Attending the meeting were 35 representatives of midwest book publishers.

Envoys Said Seeking Ways For Inclusion

By PAUL GHALI
Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

PARIS — Is America's long-standing opposition to Red China membership in the United Nations finally melting?

My information, elicited from a French diplomat here would certainly so indicate.

Ghali

The State Department, according to this source, has instructed all American ambassadors to seek the views of Security Council countries to which they are accredited on ways and means to effect Red China inclusion in the world organization.

Douglas Dillon, U.S. ambassador to Paris has called on Georges Bidault, foreign minister of the present French caretaker government to sound out the French, my informant says.

* * *

WASHINGTON, it appears has been prompted to envisage a change in its formal opposition to the presence of Red Chinese diplomats in the U.N. by these compelling reasons

1. The impossibility of keeping Red China out of the U.N. once its government, along with that of North Korea has signed an armistice with the U.N. After all Mao Tse-tung's government is in undeniable control over 450,000,000 Chinese.

2. The insistence of British Prime Minister Churchill that Red China be admitted.

3. The "peace gestures" by the Soviets in the last three weeks in Germany, Austria and the Balkans. Though spectacular rather than genuine these gestures should be answered

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—Sterling F. Mutz of 2000 So. 23rd, Lincoln, Neb., was one of eight members of the Sons of the American Revolution receiving "Minute Man" awards, the society's highest honor.

Power Pact Ends June 30; No Accord Yet

The city's temporary power rate agreement with the Nebraska Public Power System expires June 30 with no rate adjustment in immediate prospect.

The original contract expired Aug. 4, 1952.

Temporary rates under the extended agreement are about 50 per cent higher than under the old setup.

Mayor Clark Jeary said he had requested the engineering department to ask that the A-0-1 rate be made applicable while rate litigation is pending.

This is the rate paid by Consumers and carries a demand rate of $1.50 per kW, as against $1.75, temporary going rate.

The city's bickerings had been largely along consolidated billing lines.

The A-0-1 graduates from 9 mills down to 3½ per kwh. Unless the NPPS should agree to the A-0-1 for Lincoln, temporarily at least, and unless a rate settlement is reached before June 30, another extension of a temporary rate agreement looms as the answer.

There have been no rate conferences the past month.

Frosty Fruit Pie

Frosty Fruit Pie, a perfect summer dessert, is the newest pie discovery From one basic recipe the high, fluffy filling can be made in nine delicious flavors

A stir-n-roll crust is ideal because it stays oven-fresh flaky and tender even when refrigerated for hours

Make Frosty Fruit Pie in the cool of the morning, pop into the refrigerator, and serve later

Here's the filling

1¼ cups crushed pineapple, pineapple juice, orange juice, grape juice, prune juice, apricot nectar or applesauce
1 pkg lemon flavored gelatin
⅔ to ¾ cup sugar (depending on sweetness of fruit)
½ cup chilled undiluted evaporated milk
1 tbsp lemon juice

Bring fruit or juice to a boil Stir in gelatin until dissolved Mix in sugar Cool until almost stiff

Whip evaporated milk stiff with the lemon juice Pour on top of the gelatin mixture Beat in slowly with rotary beater or electric mixer at low speed Pour into baked pie shell Chill at least 1 hour Garnish with shaved chocolate, if desired

To whip evaporated milk simply chill in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around outside edge (15 to 20 minutes)

Lemon or lime variation Use 1 cup boiling water and ¼ cup lime or lemon juice (fresh, bottled or canned) Lime or lemon-flavored gelatin may be used

For a fluffy high pie be sure the gelatin mixture is almost stiff and that the evaporated milk is whipped until it stands in stiff peaks

Culbertson On Bridge

The essence of good bidding is to investigate as many contracts as possible before settling upon one. This may seem to be an elementary observation, but the fact is that few players conduct a full investigation of a hand—they follow North's bad example in the deal below.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 10 5 4
♥ 7
♦ K Q J 9 2
♣ K 6 4 3

WEST
♠ K 6
♥ Q 8 5 4 2
♦ A 4 3
♣ 10 5 2

EAST
♠ J 8 2
♥ A 10 6 3
♦ 8 7 5
♣ J 9 7

SOUTH
♠ A Q 9 7 3
♥ K J 9
♦ 10 6
♣ A Q 8

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 Spade | Pass | 2 Diamonds | Pass |
| 2 No-trump | Pass | 3 No-trump | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

On West's nautral lead of his fourth-highest heart, the contract was doomed. The defenders established the heart suit for four tricks, and when South, of necessity, knocked out the diamond ace, they lost no time in cashing in the heart tricks.

A glance at the North-South hands reveals that the proper contract—undefeatable by any defense — was four spades; and a further glance brings out the point that it was North alone who was to blame for the failure to reach the right contract.

Let's analyze. North's two-diamond response on the first round is of course correct, but when South then bids two no-trump, North should not take it for granted that the heart suit is well controlled and automatically go to three-no-trump. He should make the investigating, or temporizing, bid of three spades, signifying his willingness to play at a spade contract. By doing so he is not (as so many players falsely think) showing strong spade support — he is merely announcing that his hand, because of its distribution, seems better adapted to a spade contract if South can rebid the suit than to a no-trump contract. If South has only a four-card spade suit, he persists with no-trump, but with a fair five-card suit; he should at least be given the option of preferring a spade contract.

Chances for NCAA Meet Records As Good in Prelims as in Finals

By DICK BECKER
Journal Sports Writer

Bear in mind this important fact regarding the National Collegiate Track and Field Championships

Chances for records will be as good or better in Friday's preliminaries as in Saturday's finals at NU's Memorial Stadium

Ten events will have preliminary competition and in all ten the field will be so tough that the lads entered will have to go all out to stay in the running for Saturday's finals

COACH Ed Weir of Nebraska, who is serving as a guiding light for some of the collegians who are here without a coach, is advising the boys to train for Friday

"That is the day that will really count," Ed says "The field is so fast that everyone will have to be at peak performance to qualify for the finals"

● ● ●

ONE OF the records almost certain to go by the board Friday is in the half-mile where the meet record is 1 50 3

With Wes Santee, Kansas University's complex cowpoke running only once Friday it is almost certain that the lean Jayhawker will go all out for the 880-yard record

Santee has done 1 50 8 and will be eyeing the world record of 1 49 2, held by Sidney Wooderson and Mal Whitfield

He will have to go the limit to outdo such fine middle distance men as Jim Kepford of Michigan State, Lang Stanley of San Jose State, Stacey Siders of Illinois and Fred Dwyer of Villanova.

Stanley is credited with a 1 49 5 performance this year when he ran second to Whitfield

Only events which won't have preliminaries are the mile run pole vault, high jump and two-mile run

● ● ●

WEATHER will be another big factor in the record-making While clear skies and no wind are imperative it is feared that the heat of the last few days may be too much for the competitors

Meet publicists — John Bentley, Don Pierce and Jim May—have figured that 23 standards are in jeopardy They figure four world records, seven American records five national collegiate records and seven meet records may fall

No less than seven of these marks have already been bettered this year by such artists as Santee, Southern Cal's Parry O'Brien and Sim Iness All three of these lads will be on display in Friday's preliminaries

Here are the marks which may fall

World—880-yard run, mile run, shotput discus

American — 220-yard dash (around one curve), 880-yard run, mile run shotput discus

American Citizen — Mile run, two-mile run

National Collegiate — 880-yard run, mile run, two-mile run, shotput discus

NCAA Meet — 220-yard dash (around one curve 880-yard run, mile run two-mile run pole vault, shotput, discus

Several of these marks have already been broken this spring and are pending approval Included are O'Brien's toss of 59 2⅜ and 59 ¾ in the shotput, Santee's 4 02 4 in the mile run, Stanley's 1 49 5 in the half mile and Iness 185 5¼ discus toss

Coaches Banquet

There will be a banquet Thursday evening at 7 for the coaches attending the meet as well as for meet officials It will be held at the Cornhusker Hotel

Special Delivery

Benny Wilson of San Diego State had one question on his arrival at the Coliseum Wednesday to check in

"Do I have any mail?"

He did

John Bentley handed him a letter which contained his draft notice

Pole Vault Early

There is a possibility the pole vault competition may start early Saturday as that event is expected to take longer to run off than any of the others Thirty boys are entered

Magic Mile Possible

Kansas Coach Bill Easton said Wednesday that Santee would go for the four-minute mile if "the weather and track conditions are exactly right"

Santee is certain to try for the half-mile record Friday but may seek to win two first places Saturday rather than set records

Two firsts would be a big aid to Kansas in the team race

FCC Will Rule On 'Pirating'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has been asked to rule that a broadcaster in Texas is "pirating" accounts of baseball games in New York by making them sound as though the announcer is watching them

The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers separately asked the FCC to investigate and halt the broadcasts by Trinity Broadcasting Corp, which operates stations KLIF at Dallas KLBS at Houston and KELP at El Paso

● ● ●

IN DALLAS, Gordon McLendon, vice president of Trinity and a sports announcer himself, dared those he called "baseball monopolists" to "come into court and sue"

McLendon contended in a statement that the Trinity broadcasts are labelled at beginning and end as "re-creations" and he said such recreations were cleared "with the FCC legal department long ago"

Don't Sell Current Sports Era Short!

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes you can't see the forest for the trees

Meaning that right now, without realizing it, we are in a reasonable facsimile of the Golden 20's, the era of wonderful nonsense or however you refer to that gaudy sports period which gave us such fabulous performers as Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Bill Tilden, Helen Wills Gertrude Ederle and others whose names grow bigger with the passing of the years

Dempsey? We have an exciting heavyweight champion in Rocky Marciano, a pulverizing puncher whose feats may yet become legendary

● ● ●

THE YANKEES and their murderers' row? The current Yankees are making a travesty of the American League race and are marching toward a fifth consecutive pennant, a feat never before accomplished

There is no flamboyant Babe Ruth nor will there ever be a player to match him for sheer color But we have Ed Mathews and Mickey Mantle, two youngsters who may eclipse even the Babe's great records And Robin Roberts may yet earn a place among the great pitchers of all time

Nothing ever will dispel the aura of Bobby Jones

But no apologies need be offered in mentioning Ben Hogan in the same breath The difference is that Hogan is a pro, Bobby was an amateur

● ● ●

CHANNEL swimmers? Gertrude Ederle was greeted with a ticker-tape parade when she returned as the first woman to swim the English Channel Florence Chadwick not only bettered her time, but paddled across the treacherous stretch of water in both directions

The 20's had their Earl Sande as the glamor boy among jockeys Eddie Arcaro has been on winners in more Kentucky Derbies than any other rider, and his name is synonymous with all that is great when it comes to piloting steeds to top stake races.

So leave us not sell our own era short It may lack the hysteria and gaudiness of the gala 20's, but in decades to come we may look back on the 50's with genuine nostalgia From the standpoint of performance our current headliners need offer no apologies

When George Washington was first called 'The Father of His Country' the term father" was important That was before the days of radio, TV and family-comedy film fantasies In the past couple of decades Pop's prestige has been kicked around quite a lot In modern entertainment forms Pop has become a figure of fun and befuddlement According to the script writers the old man usually isn't very bright and he doesn't have much say-so around the house

About the only cheerful spot in this picture is the fact that there is a Father's Day set aside, when Dad regains a small spot of prestige But we think the old boy should get a little more respect in the family stories Pretty soon everybody might start believing those things

KEMP WICKER'S athletes tied it up after two were out in the fifth when Pete Kitsos walked and scored on a double by Pitcher Don Watkins. Holden played the ball badly but there was no further scoring in the frame, Johnny Magliolo rolling to Mathieson for the final out.

Walt Linden's single, Mathieson's sacrifice and a walk to Fred Hancock set up a Lincoln rally in the seventh. With two down Tom Neill punched a single into left and Glenn McQuillen's double scored the Chiefs' leftfielder.

Watkins was yanked during the uprising and Dewey Adkins the transplanted Nebraskan, finished the inning, drawing credit for the victory when his mates got to Mathieson for three runs in the eighth.

● ● ●

MAGLIOLO beat out a roller with one away and Ned Folmar's single sent the former Lincoln gardner to second. Mathieson got Roland George on strikes for his ninth killing of the game.

Burdy Thurlby doubled into left and before Neil could get the ball and fire it back into the infield two runs had scored. Jack McDaniel's single sent Thurlby in with the winning marker.

Andy Bush took over and got Cunningham to tap to Caro for a force at second.

Stubby Stablefeld hurled the last two innings for the Bruins and retired Finney's men in order.

York '9' Nips Lincoln, 8-3

YORK—York climbed on a pair of Lincoln pitchers for eight runs as the York Legion team beat the Lincoln Elks, 8-3, here Wednesday night. It was the second loss for the Elks against two wins.

The game was a battle of horse-collars until the fifth when Lincoln took the lead.

Ron Bayless walked and advanced on Pitcher Denny Curtin's safety. Packy Young hit into a fielder's choice and Jim Muff fanned but Outfielder Larry Littrell came through with a clutch triple to drive in two runs.

York went ahead in the home half of the frame. The big blow was Max Beattie's double with the bases loaded.

Coach Fran Nagle's Elks rallied for one in the sixth. The score was the result of a walk, infield out and error.

Roy Kihounek replaced Curtin on the mound for Lincoln in the sixth as York tallied three insurance runs.

Spike Wilson led the York hitters with four hits in four tries.

Next game for the Elks is a Sunday test against Beatrice at Muny Diamond. Dick Hergenrader is the probable Lincoln pitcher.

I May Be Wrong

By Walt Dobbins
Journal Sports Editor

At a gabfest the other evening which involved scribes, ball players and sports promoters, a behind-the-scenes story came to light that few people have ever heard about.

The speaker who had the floor at the time was Al Sweeney, of Chicago who is here in Lincoln to direct the eighth annual IMCA championship speedway car races July 4 at the fair grounds.

It was uncovered that Sweeney was formerly connected with the promotion department of the Chicago Stadium, before turning to auto racing for a livelihood and had been closely associated with the boxing game both as manager and matchmaker before he was hired by the late J. Alex Sloan, the "father of dirt track racing."

As the story unwound itself, Sweeney was telling about his marriage to Berenice Pelc, a Chicago school teacher, who now works in the judges stand at all the principal race tracks in the country as a scorer when not teaching in Chicago's public schools.

Trip for Wedding Present

Jack Hurley, at that time the manager of the great Fargo lightweight Billy Petrolle, was the best man for the Chicago couple and as a wedding present took them to New York with him.

"That was in 1932 and neither one of us had a dime. My wife was being paid with tax warrants nobody would buy and promoters couldn't give you a guarantee if you had two champions. I had a featherweight who boxed 10 tough rounds in Dayton, O., and when it came time to get paid off we had $39 75 coming as our end.

● ● ●

"MY FIGHTER'S NAME was Prince Saunders. He was rated among the top 10 in his division at the time and when Hurley offered to get him on the semi-windup to the Billy Petrolle-Tnoy Canzoneri lightweight championship fight it was light manna from heaven" recounted the speed official.

Behind Jacobs' Rise

"Do you know what caused the 20th Century Boxing Club to be formed and Mike Jacobs to be transformed from a ticket scalper to a boxing czar?" asked Sweeney.

"Well it all boils down to—Two tickets to Fargo. The ballyhoo for the Canzoneri-Petrolle fight had reached it's height. We had over $70,000 in the box office and Petrolle looked like he would wind up being the next lightweight champion of the world. The last few days of the training period has been reached and Jack had ordered his final boxing session before tapering off.

"After the first round was over Billy complained of a pain in his left arm. We kept it quiet from everyone else for fear of hurting the gate. A quick examination at a neighborhood doctor's office disclosed a chipped bone in the elbow socket. Petrolle had to be operated on, the fight postponed indefinitely and all the ticket money refunded. You never saw such a sick bunch of people in your life" Sweeney went on.

"Well, Jimmy Johnson, the "Boy Bandit of Broadway," was matchmaker for Madison Square Garden then and he was in the driver's seat and quite a cocky guy. He was mad about the postponement, refused to pay Hurley the return transportation on the canceled fight and right then and there started one of the most famous and costly feuds in the history of boxing."

Matched by New Club

What happened then?, asked one of our group and the Chicago Irishman was off again expounding the virtues of his pal and adviser, Jack Hurley.

"Well to make a long story, short," said Sweeney, "within a year, Petrolle had come back to New York, fulfilled his contract to fight Canzoneri and lost a 15-round decision.

● ● ●

THEN HURLEY matched him with Barney Ross for a new young club called the 20th Century Boxing club which had been formed by a group of his newspaper friends. They had to have a 'front' man who knew something about handling tickets and advance sales and they picked a fellow out of a little office across the street from the Forrest Hotel where we stayed in those days."

"His name? Oh, yes—Mike Jacobs!"

Was the fight a success? asked the scribe. "Success!! It drew a 12 000 capacity house and turned an equal number away from the Bronx Coliseum which is about as far as from here to Omaha from Broadway."

● ● ●

"THAT, MY FRIENDS, was the beginning of the end for the boxing monopoly held by the Madison Square Garden Corporation since the days of the late Tex Rickard and the first million dollar gates" related Sweeney.

Grain Market Easier; Some Profit-taking

CHICAGO (AP)—After an erratic morning session, wheat futures rose to the day's best levels on the close of the Board of Trade Thursday.

On the advance in the bread grain rye firmed and the feed grains managed to move up into fairly steady ground. But soybeans remained weak.

On the close, wheat ruled 3¼ to 4½ cents a bushel higher; corn ¼c higher to ¼c lower; oats 1½c higher to ½c lower; rye 1¾ to 2¼ cents higher; soybeans 1¼ to 4¼ cents lower; and lard 8 to 20 points a hundred pounds higher.

Most of the late strength in the wheat pit was prompted by the continuation of the advance on the Kansas City and Minneapolis markets.

Fire Ruins Military Port In Alaska

Flames Destroy Buildings, Docks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Fire and explosions destroyed millions of dollars worth of military installations and supplies Wednesday night at Alaska's main military port of Whittier, 72 miles southeast of here.

The rampaging, wind-blown flames, in less than four hours, destroyed three new warehouses, two docks and other buildings.

* * *

CAUSE OF the fire was undetermined and two unofficial versions were given. One said that a forest fire in adjacent timber swept into the town. The second said a boiler in one of the warehouses blew up to set off the blaze.

Three persons were reported critically injured in the boiler explosion.

Alaska Defense Command officials here said the port facilities were wiped out and no longer were usable. Millions of dollars have been spent in developing the area, which serves as a port for the entire defense command sector.

* * *

WALT WELCH, of radio station KENI in Anchorage, flew to Whittier and reported that smoke from the fire extended halfway to Anchorage. He said tight military security had been clamped on the port, making it virtually impossible to get a full picture of the situation.

The fire started at 5:45 p.m. and ate its way to the dock area within a few minutes. Two hours later the roof of one of the warehouses collapsed and another warehouse had been dynamited.

The town, developed by the military during World War II and expanded vastly since then, is mountain-rimmed and can be reached only by rail or air from the land side. It has a civilian population of 700. Military authorities declined to say how many soldiers were stationed there.

Farm Managers Study Soils

Irrigation, conservation and fertilization of soil were the topics of study and discussion at a Thursday meeting of the Nebraska Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers.

A tour of farms in the Lincoln area, for a study of irrigation methods—especially the sprinkler system—and crop rotation, composed the morning program.

Thursday afternoon, the group saw the film, "Valley of Still Waters." A discussion of watershed development included a speech by Raymond A. McConnell Jr., editor of The Lincoln Journal and co-chairman of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association.

Clerk Subpoena Delayed

Harry Town Funeral Monday

The funeral of Harry Town of 1005 G will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday in St. Mary's Cathedral, Msgr. C. J. Riordan officiating. Burial will be in Calvary.

Mr. Town died Thursday of a heart ailment and other complications. He had owned and operated a grocery store on the corner of 27th and O.

He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife, Blanche Lyman Town; a brother, George L. Towne, a sister, Harriet Towne, and a nephew, George E. Towne, all of Lincoln.

'ROCKED - RIBBED REPUBLICAN—That's how 101-year-old Mrs. E. W. Lyman of 1902 So. 30th describes herself. Vastly interested in politics, the centenarian didn't vote in the 1952 election because "I knew Eisenhower would get it anyway." Mrs. Lyman, who will be 102 July 12, is noted among friends for her humorous quips. She now lives with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, who believes her mother's political interests may be the secret of her longevity. Says Mrs. Lyman: "The only reason I've lived this long is I wanted to see a Republican in the White House."

Masonic Home Officials Hear Californian

PLATTSMOUTH (AP)—Robert M. Henry, Superintendent of Masonic Homes for children in California, addresses a meeting of Masonic home executives of the United States here Thursday.

Henry speaks on the problems of the adolescent in an institution. The three-day meeting is for national Masonic home officials.

Management problems was the topic of an open forum. Dr. J. LeRoy Wright, head of the Maryland Masonic Home, led the discussion. The afternoon program consists of a business session and election of officers.

Delegates earlier heard A. D. Leon Gray outline a program of activities used in the Oxford Orphanage of North Carolina. The institution, headed by Gray, is the largest of its kind.

Gray said "alumni" returned to the orphanage for "family reunions" and many return for their weddings, much as they would to a regular home and family.

The Masonic officers attended a lodge meeting in Omaha while their wives wound up a tour of the capitol in Lincoln.

Thursday's sessions will end with a visit to the Masonic Eastern Star Home at Fremont and a picnic on the grounds.

Brother and Sister Charm With Spanish Music, Dance

By HELEN MARY HAYES
Journal Staff Writer

Students and townsfolk who jammed the Student Union ballroom to the walls Wednesday night for a concert of Spanish piano music and dances by Emilio and Teresita Osta, brother and sister, were amply rewarded. These young Californians of Spanish descent provided entertainment rarely matched here for style, finish and artistic quality.

From the "Anoranza" of Granados, composed in the classical manner inspired by the 19th century court of Spain, through Argentine, Peruvian and Basque and modern Spanish dances to the blazing "Jota de Castilla" by Guerra which closed the recital, Teresita proved hereself an artist of superb style and mistress of the subtle art of the castanets.

* * *

FOR GOMEZ - CARRILLO'S "The Cat" she wore Argentine cowboy costume, while for the Peruvian Inca "Las Huarakkas," a traditional dance rarely seen on the stage, she appeared in garb of medievally rich colors, carrying for the "sling dance" a sling made of many colored scarves. Her costume for the "Jota" was obviously a museum piece, combining black velvet with many-colored tinsel, and white and cerise draperies.

* * *

EMILIO OSTA provided superlative accompaniment for the dances, and also played two piano groups with brilliancy and charm. The first opened with a fine "18th Century Sonata" by Soler and continued with three modern and very popular pieces, "Seguidillas" by Albeniz and "Malaguena" and "Danza Lucumi" by Lecuona in an arrangement by the performer. After Esperon's "La Borrachita," which he had also arranged, and Infante's famous "El Vito" variations, he played a Chopin Etude as an encore.

This recital was the first of a series of three events provided for summer session students by the University of Nebraska.

Four Injured In Crash on Denton Road

A Crete woman was seriously injured and three other persons were hurt in a one-car crash on the old Denton road four-and-a-half miles south of Emerald about 2 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Lucille Horky, 40, was unconscious at St. Elizabeth Hospital with undetermined injuries. Hospital authorities considered her condition "critical."

* * *

HER DAUGHTER Glenna, 19, also of Crete, was in "farily good" condition with a possible broken collar bone and a possible back injury.

Henry Reichel, 29, of 1207 Charleston, with possible fracture of the right wrist, and back injury and Walter Mark, 27, of 3502 So. 51st, with a possible back injury, were reported in "fairly good" condition at St. Elizabeth.

* * *

MRS. HORKY was pinned in the car when it missed a curve and went into a ditch, the safety patrol reported. It was not immediately learned who was driving.

Would You Raise Your Hand For $46 96

Figures show that more than 300 people in Lincoln and vicinity will make up their minds within the next 30 days to buy a used car. If I knew who you were, I would urge you to see me at once. You have no idea how much money I could save you and pass on to you.

My accountant tells me it costs $46.96 in sales experience to locate a person really in the market to buy a used car. I think it is a shameful waste of money. Here is what we're going to do about it.

Tear out this advertisement and bring it to our salesroom as soon as possible. Look at the beautiful array of better select used cars including all popular makes and models that carry our Gold Trophy Guarantee.

Drive the one of your choice.

Get our offer on your old car.

Compare our proposition with any deal you've had anywhere.

If you buy and I'm sure you will, we'll write you a check for $46.96 for the sales expense you have saved us.

That is your offer. Could anything be fairer? X

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM D.Sc.

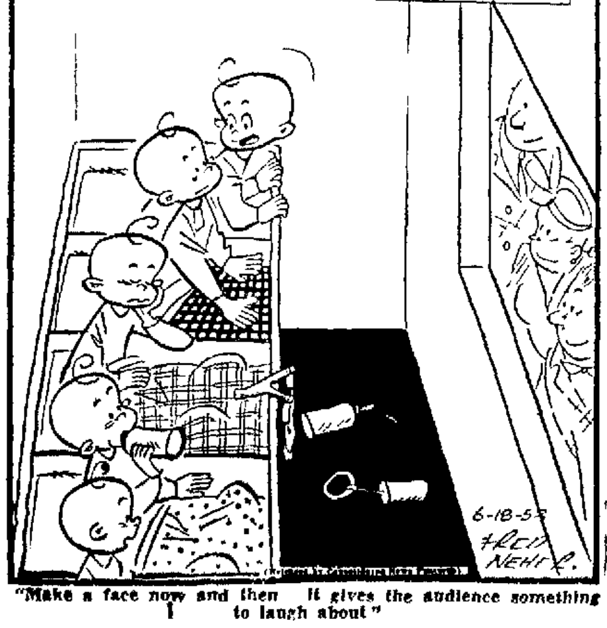

1 Yes The late Ellsworth Huntington compared the athletic success of Yale men students (classes 1922 1926) with the number of their brothers and sisters and found that success increased uniformly as the families became larger. Huntington found that he could almost predict a boy's athletic success by the size of his family. He concluded this was because vigorous parents have large families and also because the rough and tumble life of such kids develops them.

2 No Common sense should tell us why and experiments confirm it. Who on earth would guess that l-e-a-f spells leaf while d-e-a-f spells deaf. It is the same with thousands of words. The child should see the word and get a mental picture. Copying words also makes poor spellers because the child does not get a single picture. Have the child look at the word, then remove it from sight and have him copy the picture from memory.

3 No certainly not always to the satisfaction of our wives and husbands. Psychologist J. C. Miller finds that we not only have an unconscious mind but have various levels of unconscious mental activity that influence our behavior. His experiments suggest that a man may hire an office girl who is inefficient but can't tell why. The real reason may be because she unconsciously reminds him of his sister or even a childhood sweetheart.

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Not This This

Father: 'Give me that lawnmower. I'd rather finish cutting this grass myself than keep after you to make you do it right.'

Father: 'Come here Son where you can see the places you missed in cutting the grass. Better run the mower over them again.'

The I'd rather do-it myself attitude never yet taught a youngster to do a task well
